

"Every place on which the sole of your foot treads, I have given it to you, just as I spoke to Moses." - Joshua 1:3

The week of September 22 - September 29 has been especially intense for Arizona Call to Prayer and our special guest, Henry Gruver - "Prayer Walker to the World". ACP has brought intercessors from around Arizona together for three special assignments to address some of the significant root issues of Arizona history. Henry Gruver, who began his prayer walking on the streets of Phoenix in the 1960s, has just recently moved back to Arizona for brief stints here and graciously shifted his schedule to help lead us in these prayer journeys.

"But whom you forgive anything, I forgive also; for indeed what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, I did it for your sakes in the presence of Christ, in order that no advantage be taken of us by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his schemes." - 2 Corinthians 2:10-11

PRESCOTT

At 10:00am on Saturday, September 22, seventy intercessors gathered in Prescott to deal with the roots of Freemasonry and related issues that come with harboring a pervasive secret society with covenants, oaths, and idols.

On July 25, 1865, the first masonic lodge meeting in Arizona was hosted at the original "governor's mansion" which served as the home and meeting place of Arizona's first territorial governor, John N. Goodwin, who was a Freemason. The governor's mansion still stands fully restored as part of the Sharlot Hall Museum in downtown Prescott.

The group first assembled a few blocks away at Church on the Street for preparatory worship and prayer. After a briefing on the principles of prayer walking and Freemasonry the group divided into 12 small prayer teams. These teams then went to the beautiful historic grounds where the governor's mansion is located. For more than an hour the intercessors, led by Henry Gruver, covered the governor's mansion and grounds thoroughly offering up numerous effective prayers of forgiveness and renunciation, declaration and worship.

There was intermittent rain until the group re-gathered all together for worship and intercession under a canopy that was set up on the grounds. At this point it began to pour! With the rain pelting the tent covering, the prayers increased in fervency for the people of Prescott, our state, and the healing of our land.

Finally, we convened for a late lunch at a second floor private room at the nearby Gurley Street Grill. Here, we debriefed, prayed for protection against any backlash, and heard many of the great testimonies of Henry Gruver's life in Christ around the world.

"If you forgive the sins of any, their sins have been forgiven them." - John 20:23

TALIESIN WEST, SCOTTSDALE

At 4:00pm on Thursday, September 27, ten intercessors joined Henry Gruver to address the world-wide influence and impact of Frank Lloyd Wright and his New Age philosophy at one of his historic anchor locations in the desert of north Scottsdale. The nature of the location does not lend to a large group of intercessors on their private land, so we invited a small team of intercessors already familiar with the issues and location.

Wright, who died in 1959, established Taliesin West in the 1930s as a winter home in tandem with his Taliesin headquarters in Spring Green, Wisconsin. At these locations, architectural interns have lived in a communal lifestyle following the dictates of their 'cult-like' leader. It was well-known that Wright himself had numerous affairs, left his first wife and their six children to travel Europe with another woman, was married three times, and espoused a man-centered morality of convenience. To quote Wright: "I spell God, N-A-T-U-R-E." He also said, "morality is for normal people, and I'm not normal." He came from the Unitarian Universalism tradition that denies the deity of Jesus.

The Taliesin West site is full of statues, obelisks, and architectural designs that reflect his New Age syncretistic religion. He was also a friend and frequent visitor to Margaret Sanger, who founded Planned Parenthood in Tucson.

For an hour and a half the intercessory team addressed these things in prayer.

TUCSON

At 10:00am on Saturday, September 29, sixty intercessors joined us in Tucson with Henry Gruver to continue dealing with the issues of Arizona's historic past. After gathering at Victory Assembly to prepare for our assignment, we traveled to the heart of Tucson to a specific square block that once served as location for the territorial capitol of Arizona from 1867-1877, was the original site of the Margaret Sanger clinic established in 1935 that is the predecessor of all Planned Parenthood abortion clinics in Arizona, and now houses an active Masonic Temple which was built in 1915.

Directly across the street to the south is a homosexual bed and breakfast that is said to be the oldest existing house in Arizona built in 1850. A hundred yards away is another plaque that announces that it is the location of the first American flag raised in Arizona in 1846. Just to the north are the Federal Courthouse, known for its liberal pro-abortion slant, and the County Courthouse, the seats of justice for the region.

Again, the intercessors covered the area and surrounding blocks thoroughly and issued numerous renunciations, declarations, blessings and prayers. One team lifted up worship the entire time at the very location where the Margaret Sanger clinic had been located. At the conclusion of our time there we divided up into four groups standing on each of the four corners of the square block and simultaneously dedicated the land to the Lord.

Finally, at 1:00pm we went to the nearby historic El Charro Cafe for a meal, prayers, and fellowship together, celebrating what the Lord has accomplished.

"I will restore your judges as at the first, and your counselors as at the beginning; after that you will be called the city of righteousness, a faithful city." - Isaiah 1:26

A more detailed report of these prayer journeys, including the many written impressions and notations of several of the participating intercessors will be on record with Arizona Call to Prayer.
