

August 31, 2009

Dear Friend,

I have just returned from leading a Native American Pastors' Prayer Summit in Smith Lake, New Mexico along with some of my friends in the pastorate who served on the leadership team. Of the more than 10 Summits I have led previously, this was one of the most strategic! Blessing, honoring, and praying for and with the Native Americans is key to the transformation of Arizona.

Daniel Barrera, the Hispanic worship leader from Love International, led in powerful worship and when one of the African American pastors on the leadership team, Aubrey Barnwell, spontaneously jumped in to play keyboard and sing, the worship went over the top!

A big thanks to our ministry partners Rick and Susan Bennett, pastors of Freedom Gate in Tempe, who furnished a 15-passenger van, brought the bedding, and catered the meals. Thanks also to all who gave financially. We were able to cover each pastor's expenses and give each one a beautiful 4-color prayer journal with extra copies to take back to their churches. Some may still want to give to help take care of the $850 in remaining expenses. Believe me, this would be good fertile soil in which to plant seed. You can give by check or donate online at www.BridgeBuilders.net. Be sure to write "Native American Pastors' Prayer Summit" in the comments section.

Many are catching the vision for praying and transforming the 7 mountains of culture in Arizona: family, religion, education, government, business, media, art and entertainment. Thank you for your faithful giving which makes this ministry possible.

God bless you,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Hal Sacks". The signature is stylized and cursive.

Hal Sacks